

Book Launch

DEMOGRAPHY AND DEMOCRACY

Essays on Nationalism, Gender and Ideology

HIMANI BANNERJI

Himani Bannerji

O.I.S.E. 5-260

252 Bloor St W

Tuesday, June 07

6:30 pm

With the Centre for Feminist Research (York U) and the Centre for Women's Studies in Education (O.I.S.E).

Discussion and comments by:

Nahla Abdo, Professor, Sociology, Carleton University

David McNally, Professor, Political Science, York University,

Shahrazad Mojab, Professor, O.I.S.E, University of Toronto

Representatives from No One Is Illegal and Ontario Coalition Against Poverty will also attend

Refreshments will be served.

DEMOGRAPHY AND DEMOCRACY brings together seven of Himani Bannerji's essays on colonialism, imperialism, and nationalism, along with an introduction authored for this collection. Spanning diverse geographical spaces and socio-historical contexts, the essays are united by a feminist, antiracist and Marxist critique of ideology and a critical examination of national notions and practices.

HIMANI BANNERJI is Professor of Sociology at York University. She is the author of numerous works, including Inventing Subjects: Studies in Hegemony, Patriarchy and Colonialism (2001) and The Dark Side of the Nation: Essays on Multiculturalism, Nationalism and Gender (2000).