

the Sexuality Studies Program at York University presents

SexTalk @ York II

May 1st 9:00am–5:00pm TEL 0010
Featuring Sexuality Studies Faculty

Sex Talk @ York presents a collection of interdisciplinary faculty scholarship; from LGBTQ narratives of resistance, to queer and transgender cultural production, to psychoanalytic theory, to transnational and postcolonial studies and beyond. This conference demonstrates the growing significance of sexuality studies in Canada and across a variety of geo-political spaces and in relation to identities, power and difference(s).

10:15 – 11:45

Panel One: Homonationalisms: Citizenship, Social Media and 'White' Anxieties;

1:15 – 2:45

Panel Two: Sexual Representations: Narratives, Pedagogies and Politics;

3:00 – 4:30

Panel Three: Queer Bio-political Theorizing: Transgendering Diagnostics, LGBTQ Activism and Legal Discourses

at

York University

Sheila Cavanagh

John Greyson

Nick Mule

Bobby Noble

Cate Sandilands

Miriam Smith

Marc Stein

Nathan Rambukkana

Amar Wahab

Complimentary breakfast begins at 9:30am.

Sponsored by LA&PS Research Events and Outreach Fund, the Associate Vice- President Research of LA&PS, the Centre for Feminist Research, and the Sexuality Studies Program , History Department, The Law and Society Program and the Film Studies Department at York University.