

Centre for Feminist Research Public Lecture Series Winter 2014

An Analysis of Trafficking in Persons in Guyana: Unravelling the Issues

Monday, January 20, 2014, 1:00-3:00pm

Kaneff Tower 857

Using Guyana as a case study, this talk will identify the social and legal issues that hinder an accurate assessment and response to the problem of human trafficking for sex work in the context of a growing mining industry. It will also focus on the basic features of human trafficking in Guyana, offer critical policy-based responses and suggest appropriate methods for limiting the problem and assisting victims.

---

About Audrey Enid Benn

Benn is currently the visiting scholar at the Centre for Feminist Research and head of the Women's Studies Unit, University of Guyana, Turkeyen Campus. For over two decades Audrey has been championing the causes of women and girls, and has been working tirelessly developing educational and empowerment programmes for disadvantaged communities.

Please send your RSVP to Vivian Lee, CFR Coordinator, at leev@yorku.ca

The event is free. Refreshment will be provided.