

York Centre for Feminist Research (CFR) Membership Application

Membership Category (please select one)

____ Visiting Graduate Student

____ Visiting Post Doctoral Student

____ Visiting Scholar

CFR Visiting Graduate Students are those enrolled at another University who are visiting York University through an international exchange. Appointments are made by the Executive Committee for specified periods, using criteria approved by the Council, if any.

CFR Visiting Post Doctoral Scholars are those with recent Ph.D.'s who would like to be associated with the Centre for a temporary and limited time period. These researchers are engaged in research in the field and are expected to participate in the intellectual life of the Centre while associated with the Centre. Appointments are made by the Executive Committee for specified periods, using criteria approved by the Council, if any.

CFR Visiting Scholars are full-time or emeritus faculty members at another University or senior (non-student) researchers not affiliated with a university who would like to be located at York University for a temporary and limited time period. These researchers are engaged in research in the field and are expected to participate in the intellectual life of the Centre while associated with the Centre. Appointments are made by the Executive Committee for specified periods, using criteria approved by the Council, if any.

If you don't see yourself fitting into one of these categories please email cfr@yorku.ca to find out more ways to get involved.
