

York Centre for Feminist Research (CFR) Membership Application

Membership Category Community Member

CFR Community Members are activists, teachers, public officials, or senior (non-student) researchers not affiliated with a university whose activities (work or non-work) relate substantively to the research and teaching concerns of CFR. This membership category recognizes the important contributions community activists, artists and public intellectuals make to the on-going scholarly life of the Centre. Criteria for affiliation will be based on membership in a research project or a research cluster that is affiliated with the Centre. Appointments of Community Scholars are made for up to three years, renewable, by the Executive Committee, using criteria approved by the Council.

If you don't see yourself fitting into one of these categories please email cfr@yorku.ca to find out more ways to get involved.
